- Cartier Island Marine Reserve to Cartier Island Commonwealth Marine Reserve

The proposed new reserves are all located in Commonwealth marine areas (waters inside the outer limit of the 200 nautical mile exclusive economic zone around Australia and its external Territories, but not including waters within the 3 nautical mile limit of the coastal waters of the States and the Northern Territory). The new reserves have been designed to contribute to the National Representative System of Marine Protected Areas (NRSMPA). The primary goal of the NRSMPA is to establish and manage a comprehensive, adequate and representative system of marine protected areas to contribute to the long term ecological viability of marine and estuarine systems, to maintain ecological processes and systems, and to protect Australia's biological diversity at all levels. The NRSMPA goals allow for a broad spectrum of activities, including recreation, tourism, shipping and the use or extraction of natural and living resources, where such activities are compatible with the primary goal.
